Microsoft also has released this content to Xbox Insiders. Once the content is available to all PlayStation 4 players, we'll post an update here. I don't know how they do it but it feels like Sony had literally the last word on the material. They got there first and I think the fans got the last laugh. You can get the game one week before release. It's the perfect launch game for the PlayStation4. Not to mention the Trophy/Diamond catalog is amazing. We're excited to announce that FIFA 22 will be available for PS4 on November 17, 2017. FIFA 22 will include the best-selling worldwide football simulation game and a brand-new FIFA Ultimate Team (FUT) experience. The game will be available for $59.99 on disc and as a digital download. We have spent a lot of time building a more connected FIFA experience and we've seen the experience evolve since its release last year. Our passion for football and desire to put the best football experience possible on PS4 is what fuels everything we do. FIFA 22 raises the benchmark and features a completely new player intelligence with momentum-based decisions, passing when it matters and an all-new ball physics that delivers some of the most realistic ball physics on PlayStation 4. You will also notice improved club and stadium integration with new features for 360° videos of players, crowds and goal celebrations. For FUT, we have made many improvements to the existing online experience and a new single-player Ultimate Team Quest experience. Our FUT team has worked hard to create a new and fresh player experience that brings on- and offline modes together. We are also introducing the ability to play a customised tournament, allowing you to create and play your own tournaments – and win trophies and diamonds for doing so. In addition to the FIFA and FUT features, FUT Champions, the official esports competition of FIFA, will make its debut on PS4 this year. We will provide more information on this as the year goes on. FIFA 22 looks better and sounds better than ever. We've worked hard to provide an unrivalled simulation of the beautiful game, so you can enjoy everything like never before. Best of all, we have introduced HyperMotion technology, which uses real-life player motion capture data collected from 22 top football players playing a complete, high intensity football match. The data we collect is then
